

Llano & South Llano Rivers

The Llano River is one of the few popular fly fishing destinations in Texas. It runs through the Hill Country towns of Junction, Mason and Llano. Northeast of Llano, it turns sharply to the southeast, joining the Colorado from the northwest as an arm of Lake LBJ.

